UNIMARC Guidelines no. 9

May 2014

1 PURPOSE, SCOPE AND USE	2
2 UNIMARC FORM AND CONTENT DATA	2
3 DATA ELEMENTS AND UNIMARC LOCATIONS	3
4 FULL RECORD EXAMPLES	9

This Guideline for the application of UNIMARC to Manuscript resources was developed under the auspices of the IFLA UNIMARC Strategic Programme. It results from meetings of the IFLA Permanent UNIMARC Committee where data elements used to describe manuscripts resources were compiled and their location in UNIMARC was determined.

1 PURPOSE, SCOPE AND USE

These Guidelines are applicable to manuscript materials of most kinds, produced at whatever historical or contemporary time or date; this includes manuscript books, letters, speeches, sermons, etc., typescript, typewriter or print-out from a computer prepared in manuscript format. They are intended for isolated manuscripts or manuscript collections. According to the cataloguing policy of the bibliographic agency, these guidelines may apply also to manuscript surrogates (carbon copy, photocopy, transcript, microform or digital copy).

The Guidelines are not intended for archival documents, although the treatment of such material could follow a similar model. It will not cover particular details of features pertaining to specific types of documents such as manuscript maps or music (in the later case see UNIMARC Guidelines no 7).

Unlike other materials, described at the manifestation level, the bibliographic record for a manuscript describes simultaneously manifestation and item level. Yet, the UNIMARC record for a manuscript resource does not differ in general from the structure of a UNIMARC record for other materials: the record contains all the information considered essential for descriptive purposes along with the access points for title(s) and authors, etc., provenance information, etc.

Section 2 indicates the general purpose of UNIMARC and gives the principles underlying the Guidelines. Section 3 lists data elements that could be commonly included in the bibliographic description of manuscripts and indicates where each data element would be placed in a UNIMARC record. Section 4 gives examples of full records for manuscript resources.

2 UNIMARC FORM AND CONTENT DATA

ISBD does not cover manuscripts so ISBD provisions are not applicable. Consequently the descriptive cataloguing form used in the record is therefore in accordance with other rules. Character position 18 in the leader should contain "x".

In the absence of internationally agreed rules for the cataloguing of manuscripts, national practices applied to UNIMARC for manuscript cataloguing have been considered in these Guidelines.

These guidelines are not intended to be cataloguing rules for manuscripts; they are only illustrative and are intended to demonstrate how the UNIMARC format can be used when creating records for manuscript resources. UNIMARC is not commonly used by organisations or departments in organisations whose primary role is the management of manuscripts. On the other hand, UNIMARC can be used by organisations whose collections are for the most part published resources when the need arises to include in the database records of manuscripts that are available in the collection.

The methodology for using UNIMARC in the recording of manuscripts has been to identify UNIMARC fields that can be used by analogy with the recording of cataloguing elements for published resources. For example:

- subfield 210 $c Name of publisher, distributor, etc. may be used for the name of the producer (scriptorium or copyist) (if known) since manuscripts do not have publishers or distributors in the sense intended in cataloguing published resources but the producer is the nearest equivalent.
- field 316 Note relating to the copy in hand is used for detailed information relating to the item: missing leaves, etc., binding characteristics.
- field 321 External Indexes/Abstracts/References note is used for 1. Mention of the bibliographic reference to the first or most accurate published edition of a manuscript; 2. Bibliographical references about a manuscript.

3 DATA ELEMENTS AND UNIMARC LOCATION

DATA ELEMENTS	UNIMARC Location
Title proper and other title elements
Title proper: Title transcribed as it appears on main source of information, that is manuscript itself and, within the manuscript, preferred sources of information are the title page or its substitute, the caption etc. Prefer the original manuscript as a source to any other exterior source, even if it is the printed version of the manuscript. If the manuscript lacks a title, the cataloguer should supply one, based on the content of the manuscript (marking it, for example, in square brackets).	200..$a Title proper
Other title information
	200 $e Other title information
Responsibilities
First statement of responsibility: Statements of responsibility relating to persons or bodies appearing on the manuscript. If the manuscript lacks a signature or statement of responsibility the cataloguer would supply one for it, if known (in square brackets).	200 $f First statement of responsibility
Subsequent statement of responsibility:	200 $g Subsequent

MANUSCRIPTS

Other authors, copyist, bibliographic antecedent, other names as listed on the manuscript resource, etc.	statement of responsibility
Edition statement
Designation of a named revision of a work: Version of the manuscript if it is necessary to identify different versions (e.g. "2 nd draft" "copy out before printing") ¹ .	205 $a Edition statement
Statement of responsibility relating to edition: Statement of responsibility relating to the version, if different.	205 $f Statement of responsibility relating to edition
Production
Publication, distribution, etc.: The unpublished nature of the resource should be indicated.	210 Publication, distribution, etc. Indicator 2: 1 = Not published or publically distributed
Place of publication, distribution, etc.: Place of production of the manuscript (if known).	210 $a Place of publication, distribution, etc.
Name of publisher, distributor,etc.: Name of the producer (e.g. scriptorium or copyist) (if known).	210 $c Name of publisher, distributor, etc.
Date of publication, distribution, etc.: The date(s), year, etc, or span of time of the production of the manuscript.	210 $d Date of publication, distribution, etc.
Physical description
Specific Material Designation and Extent of item: Number of leaves/pages; number of columns (if more than one exists), etc, or other features according to the type of resource.	215 $a Specific Material Designation and Extent of item
Other physical details: Name of the base material on which the manuscript being described is written; other physical details as adequate to the type of resource (illustrated text, colour, etc., in the case of maps, drawings, etc.).	215 $c Other physical details
Dimensions: The dimensions according to the type of resource (it may include height and width).	215 $d Dimensions

¹ Because of the likelihood of errors being introduced each time a manuscript was copied it may be necessary to identify different versions.

No final, em letra do séc. XIV, dois evangelhos para a festa do Corpo de Deus, alargada à Igreja universal em 1264. No último fólio, sob a rubrica 'Hec est nomina de virtutibus', vários nomes de santos e lugares sagrados, em letra minúscula do séc. XIV, e ainda uma breve nota em português, em letra cursiva, um pouco posterior: "Estes ssom os avangelhos que a... d... d... / demuninhado (?) / Im principio erat verbum [Jo 1, 1] / Com natus eset [Mt 2, 1] / Com turba prurima conveniret [Lc 8, 4]". A inclusão desta nota revela, pelo menos, que o Evangeliário foi usado em Portugal; à margem de alguns fólios do Santoral, indicações, de várias mãos e épocas, de festas acrescentadas.$aO facto de começar pela festa do Natal denota antiguidade, seguindo neste particular a ordenação das festas segundo a liturgia gregoriana; o santoral é muito semelhante ao que foi adoptado na Ordem de Cister, mas não inclui ainda as festas de S. Bernardo e de S. Tomás de Cantuária, canonizados em 1173.
